The Middlebury people who went up to the State fair to manage restaurants are not enthusiastic over the success of their ventures. The bad weather and the higher price of admission cut down the profits of the restaurants and the eating-houses to a very appreciable extent.

The presentation of "Nancy &amp; Co." at the town hall on Saturday evening was seen by a large house. It is a light comedy without much of a plot and demands good work on the part of those who act in it. Every one of the players in Mr. Rehan's company is an artist, and those who failed to attend the entertainment missed a rare treat.

One of the oldest and best known of the residents of the village is taken away by the death of Mrs. Z. Beckwith on Wednesday. She was the widow of the late Z. Beckwith, for many years a prominent business man here, and the mother of Mr. B. S. Beckwith. Up to two weeks ago she had been in excellent health for one so aged; but had since gradually failed. Notice of the funeral appears elsewhere.

The services at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last Sunday afternoon passed off well. Prof. Austin gave a good talk taking his text from Galatians vi. 7. The attendance was very good, although the weather was unfavorable. The young men's meeting on Wednesday evening was conducted by State Secretary Avery. He gave an account of the Bible conference at Northfield, Mass., conducted by Mr. Moody. The secretary will conduct services at Bridport next Sunday. All intending to join the writing class are requested to hand in their names to the secretary at once.

The annual meeting of the W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church was held at the residence of Clinton Smith on Wednesday. The specific work of this society is the support of a Bible woman in Moradabad, India, for which the sum of $800 is paid yearly. The treasurer's report showed that all obligations had been met, and that there was an encouraging balance still in her hands. The old board of officers was re-elected. A large and pleasant company gathered for the evening. After a plentiful repast, furnished by the ladies of the society, the entertainment consisted of music, select readings, etc. The collection, not the least important part of a missionary meeting, amounted to $11.65.

Many warm friends here and elsewhere will deeply regret to learn of the death of Mr. Dugald Stewart, son of the late Hon. Dugald Stewart, which occurred at the home of the family in this village about eight o'clock yesterday morning. He went to the Adirondacks in July, returning thence last Friday evening, apparently in as good health as he had enjoyed at any time lately. On Tuesday he was out riding and caught cold, and rapidly sank. Mr. Stewart was born in August, 1838. While in college as a member of the class of 1879 he had, in the spring of 1877, an attack of pleurisy, which brought on consumption, and thereafter he was a great sufferer. He was a young man of many fine qualities, and universally respected and esteemed.

Mr. P. F. Burke, whom the President recently appointed superintendent of the Indian industrial school at Albuquerque, New Mexico, left here Monday for Cobleskill, N. Y., and he intended going thence to New Mexico on Wednesday. The Cobleskill Times, noticing his appointment, says: "The position commands a salary of about $2000 per year and besides there are some twenty or more appointments to be made by him which of course makes the office not the less valuable. He has also been made dispensing officer for the government at that point. The position is certainly a most desirable one and his many friends here will unite in congratulating him upon his good fortune, although loth to lose his services in our school where he has so faithfully labored during the past six years, having, with the assistance of a live, progressive school board, brought the school up to a standard second to no other of its kind in the State. He will take with him only the best wishes of the patrons and scholars of the school for his future success and prosperity."

THE FIRST FROST.

A severe frost made itself felt all over the county Tuesday night. As usual, it was most severe on low lands along the streams. The weather had been growing gradually cooler since Friday, when it was uncomfortably hot.

THE BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.

The Vermont Baptist State convention opened its annual session at Saxtons River Wednesday morning to continue two days, with Rev. W. N. Wilbur moderator. The annual sermon was preached by Rev. F. J. Corey, on the "Bible and Inspired Books." In the afternoon the reports of the treasurer and board of trustees were read, showing that 16 churches were added to the amount of $2300. All the bills of the past year have been paid, also the debt of $1700, and a balance is left in the treasury. Prof. H. M. Willard, principal of Vermont academy, addressed the convention on the needs of that institution. A board of managers consisting of 21 persons was chosen, who organized by electing Hon. J. J. Estey chairman, Rev. T. H. Archibald secretary, Deacon D. M. White treasurer. Wednesday evening was devoted to home and foreign missions, addresses being made by Drs. W. S. McKenzie and A. P. Mason. The attendance is large.

AT THE COLLEGE.

The freshmen have challenged the U. V. M. freshmen to play a game at Burlington, but as yet have received no reply.

There is prospect of a first-class nine from the college next spring, as the class of '90 comes in with a number of good players who will greatly strengthen the team.

Saturday afternoon the East Middlebury base ball club came to town and played against the college team, being defeated by a score of 14 to 12. Eight errors were made by the college team, and eleven by the visitors. Ross pitched most of the game for the college, but was so tired out by the rush in the morning as to impair his efficiency. Howe, '87, also tried his hand at it, but as he had a lame arm and could get no speed was batted freely. The East Middlebury club made 20 base hits with a total of 22 and the college team 14 with total 16.

The cane rush took place Saturday morning after chapel. The two classes were drawn up, on the campus between Starr Hall and the chapel, facing each other, with Douglas, '89, and Ross, '90, between them. These two grasped the cane and at a signal the two classes rushed in. The cane was carried down Waldo avenue in the midst of a struggling mass of under-graduates, while the seniors and juniors followed on and yelled themselves hoarse. After about ten minutes the freshmen succeeded in gaining complete control of the cane and taking it into chapel. It will be cut up and the pieces preserved as mementoes by the members of the class.
